UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO DIVISION

DAVID COMPTON, EARL HAUTHER,
THOMAS MCKINNEY,

Case No.

Plaintiffs,

v.

SMITHKLINE BEECHAM
CORPORATION d/b/a
GLAXOSMITHKLINE and McKESSON
CORPORATION,

Defendants.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL AND
REMOVAL ACTION UNDER 28 U.S.C.
§ 1441(B) (DIVERSITY) and 28 U.S.C. §
1441(C) (FEDERAL QUESTION) OF
DEFENDANT SMITHKLINE
BEECHAM CORPORATION d/b/a
GLAXOSMITHKLINE

TO THE CLERK OF THE COURT:

Defendant Smithkline Beecham Corporation d/b/a GlaxoSmithKline ("GSK"), hereby removes to this court the state action described below. Removal is warranted under 28 U.S.C. § 1441 because this is an action over which this Court has original jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332.

I. BACKGROUND

1. On May 21, 2008, Plaintiffs David Compton, Earl Hauther and Thomas McKinney ("Plaintiffs"), represented by The Miller Firm of Orange, Virginia, commenced this action in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of

1 San Francisco. A true and correct copy of the Complaint in the action is attached as 2 Exhibit "A" to the Declaration of Krista L. Cosner in Support of Notice of Removal and 3 Removal Action under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b) and 28 U.S.C. § 1441(c) (Federal Question)
 4 of Defendant SmithKline Beecham Corporation dba GlaxoSmithKline (hereinafter 5 "Cosner Decl.").

6 2. Neither defendant has yet been served with Plaintiffs' Complaint. Cosner
 7 Decl., ¶9.

8 3. There have been no additional proceedings in the state court action.

9 4. This is one of many cases that have been filed recently in both federal and 10 state court across the country involving the prescription drug Avandia®. Cosner Decl., 11 ¶5. Plaintiffs' counsel, The Miller Firm, has filed Avandia cases in both state and federal 12 courts, but only in the cases filed in California has The Miller Firm named McKesson, or 13 any alleged distributor of Avandia, as a defendant. Cosner Decl., ¶6.

14 5. On October 16, 2007, the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation
 15 ("JPML") issued an order directing that then-pending Avandia-related cases be 16 transferred and coordinated for pretrial proceedings in the United States District Court for 17 the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, before the Honorable Cynthia M. Rufe, pursuant to 18 28 U.S.C. § 1407. See Transfer Order, In re Avandia Marketing, Sales Practices and 19 Products Liability Litigation, MDL 1871 (E.D.P.A.) (a true and correct copy of which is 20 attached as Exhibit "B" to Cosner Decl.). Additional Avandia-related cases pending in 21 federal court, which are common to the actions previously transferred to the Eastern 22 District of Pennsylvania and assigned to Judge Rufe, are treated as potential tag-along 23 actions. See id.; see also Rules 7.4 and 7.5, R.P.J.P.M.L. 199 F.R.D. 425, 435-36 (2001).
 24 GSK intends to seek the transfer of this action to that Multidistrict Litigation, In re
 25 Avandia Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability Litigation, MDL 1871, and 26 shortly will provide the JPML with notice of this action pursuant to the procedure for 27 "tag along" actions set forth in the rules of the JPML. Cosner Decl., ¶7.

28 6. As more fully set forth below, this case is properly removed to this Court

1 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441 because GSK has satisfied the procedural requirements for 2 removal and this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this case pursuant to 28
 3 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332.

4 II. DIVERSITY JURISDICTION

5 7. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332
 6 because this is a civil action in which the amount in controversy exceeds the sum of 7 $75,000, exclusive of costs and interest, and is between citizens of different states.

8 A. There is Complete Diversity of Citizenship Between Plaintiffs and 9 Defendants

10 8. The Complaint names three individual plaintiffs. See Cosner Decl., Exh. A, 11 ¶¶ 10-12:

12 a. Plaintiff David Compton alleges that he is a “resident” of the State 13 of Kentucky. Accordingly, at the time this action was commenced, he was a citizen of 14 the State of Kentucky. Id. at ¶ 10.

15 b. Plaintiff Earl Hauther alleges that he is a “resident” of the State of 16 Tennessee. Accordingly, at the time this action was commenced, he was a citizen of the 17 State of Tennessee. Id. at ¶ 11.

18 c. Plaintiff Thomas McKinney alleges that he is a “resident” of the 19 State of Kentucky. Accordingly, at the time this action was commenced, he was a citizen
 20 of the State of Kentucky. Id. at ¶ 12.

21 9. GSK is, and was at the time Plaintiffs commenced this action, a corporation
 22 organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with its principal place
 23 of business in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and therefore, is a citizen of Pennsylvania for 24 purposes of determining diversity. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). Cosner Decl., ¶8.

25 10. The remaining named defendant, McKesson, is a Delaware corporation,
 26 with its principal place of business in San Francisco, California. Cosner Decl., Exh. C
 27 ¶3. Accordingly, there is complete diversity of citizenship between plaintiffs and 28 defendants.

B. The Amount In Controversy Requirement Is Satisfied

11. It is apparent on the face of the Complaint that Plaintiffs seek an amount in controversy in excess of $75,000, exclusive of costs and interest.

12. Plaintiffs allege that they ingested Avandia, and, as a result, “have suffered heart injury, excessive fluid retention, fluid-overload disease, liver damage, liver failure, stroke and severe injury to the heart leading to cardiac arrest,” and have sustained, “physical and financial damages including pain and suffering.” See Cosner Dec. Exh. A at ¶35. Plaintiffs further allege that Plaintiffs “suffered severe and permanent physical injuries” and endured substantial pain and suffering and extensive medical and surgical procedures.” See id. at ¶76.

13. Plaintiffs allege that they have suffered economic loss, and have otherwise been physically, emotionally and economically injured, and that their injuries and damages are permanent and will continue into the future. See Cosner Dec. Exh. A, at ¶76

14. Plaintiffs seek actual and punitive damages. See Cosner Dec. Exh. A, Prayer for Relief.

15. Punitive damages are included in the calculation of the amount in controversy. See Bell v. Preferred Life Assurance Society, 320 U.S. 238, 240 (1943).

16. Given the allegations set forth above, the face of the Complaint makes clear that Plaintiffs seek in excess of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs. See Simmons v. PCR Tech., 209 F. Supp. 2d 1029, 1031 (N.D. Cal. 2002).

C. The Citizenship of McKesson Must Be Ignored Because McKesson Has Not Been Properly Joined and Served

17. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b), the so-called “forum defendant rule,” an action is removable only if none of the parties in interest, properly joined and served as defendants, is a citizen of the State in which such action is brought. 28. U.S.C § 1441(b) (emphasis added).

18. McKesson, although a citizen of California, has not yet been served with the Complaint in this case. Cosner Decl., ¶9.

1           19. Accordingly, because there is complete diversity of citizenship and because 2 no “properly joined and served defendant” is a citizen of this State, it is appropriate that
3 this action be removed to this Court. See Waldon v. Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp.,
4 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 45809 (N.D. Cal. June 18, 2007); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b).

5           D. The Citizenship Of McKesson Must Be Ignored Because McKesson Is 6           Fraudulently Joined

7           20. A defendant is fraudulently joined, and its presence in the lawsuit is 8 ignored for purposes of determining the propriety of removal, “if the plaintiff fails to 9 state a cause of action against the resident defendant, and the failure is obvious according 10 to the settled rules of the state.” Morris v. Princess Cruises, Inc., 236 F.3d 1061, 1067
11 (9th Cir. 2001); see also Hamilton Materials, Inc. v. Dow Chemical Corporation, 494
12 F.3d. 1203, 1206 (9th Cir. 2007).

13           21. McKesson is fraudulently joined because Plaintiffs have failed to make any 14 specific material allegations against it. Plaintiffs do not even allege that they ingested
15 Avandia that was distributed by McKesson, compelling the conclusion that Plaintiffs 16 have fraudulently joined McKesson in an attempt to defeat diversity jurisdiction. See,
17 e.g., Brown v. Allstate Insur., 17 F. Supp. 2d 1134, 1137 (S.D. Cal. 1998) (finding in-18 state defendants fraudulently joined where “no material allegations against [the in-state
19 defendants] are made”); Lyons v. American Tobacco Co., No. Civ. A. 96-0881-BH-S, 20 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 18365 (S.D. Ala. 1997) (holding that there is “no better admission
21 of fraudulent joinder of [the resident defendant]” than the failure of the plaintiff “to set 22 forth any specific factual allegations” against them). Plaintiffs cannot cure this 23 deficiency by simply relying on allegations directed toward “Defendants” or GSK alone.

24           22. Plaintiffs specifically allege that GSK was engaged in the business of 25 designing, developing, manufacturing, testing, packaging, promoting, marketing,
26 distributing, labeling and/or selling Avandia. See Cosner Decl. Exh. A, at ¶ 31. Further,
27 plaintiffs specifically allege that Avandia was created and marketed by GSK; that GSK
28 had longstanding knowledge of Avandia-related dangers which GSK failed to adequately

1 warn and disclose to consumers; that GSK concealed, suppressed and failed to disclose
2 these referenced dangers; that GSK has represented and has continued to represent that it
3 manufactures and/or sells safe and dependable pharmaceuticals; that GSK has failed to 4 adequately warn or inform consumers, such as Plaintiffs or Plaintiffs' prescribing
5 physicians of known defects in Avandia; and that as a result of GSK's omissions and/or 6 misrepresentations, Plaintiffs ingested Avandia. See id. at ¶¶40, 44-46, 49 and 51.

7 23. Plaintiffs also claim, however, that McKesson "packaged, distributed,
8 supplied, sold, placed into the stream of commerce, labeled, described, marketed, 9 advertised, promoted and purported to warn or inform users regarding the risks pertaining 10 to, and assuaged concerns about [ ] Avandia." See id. at ¶38. These allegations are 11 inconsistent and contradictory, and courts have frequently viewed such inconsistencies as 12 evidence of fraudulent joinder. See Baisden v. Bayer Corp., 275 F. Supp. 2d 759, 762-
13 763. (S.D. W.Va. 2003).

14 24. Plaintiffs assert claims of: (1) negligence; (2) negligent failure to 15 adequately warn; (3) negligence per se; (4) negligent misrepresentation; (5) breach of 16 express warranty; (6) breach of implied warranty; (7) strict products liability – defective
17 design; (8) strict products liability – manufacturing and design defect; (9) strict products 18 liability – failure to adequately warn; (10) fraudulent misrepresentation; (11) violations of 19 California Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law; (12) unjust enrichment;
20 (13) loss of consortium and (14) punitive damages. In these allegations, Plaintiffs aver
21 that collectively, "Defendants" or "Defendants GSK and McKesson," defectively
22 designed and manufactured the product; concealed knowledge of unreasonably dangerous 23 risks associated with the product; failed to conduct adequate and sufficient pre-clinical 24 testing and post-marketing surveillance of the product; failed to provide FDA with 25 complete and adequate information regarding the product; failed to warn consumers 26 and/or their health care providers of certain risks associated with the product; failed to 27 utilize adequate and non-misleading labeling; and made affirmative misrepresentations
28 and omissions regarding the risks associated with taking Avandia. All of these claims are

1 substantively based on the design and manufacture of the product, failure to warn,
 2 fraudulent concealment, and inadequate pre-clinical testing and post-marketing
 3 surveillance. As a wholesale distributor of Avandia, McKesson played no role in its 4 testing, marketing or advertising. All McKesson did was pass along unopened boxes of 5 Avandia, in unadulterated form, to hospitals and other businesses in the healthcare
 6 industry. See Cosner Decl. Exh. C, ¶¶ 6-7.<sup>1</sup>

7 25. Further, based on the “learned intermediary” doctrine, McKesson bore no
 8 duty to warn Plaintiffs. The “learned intermediary” doctrine, the foundation of 9 prescription drug product liability law, provides that the duty to warn about a drug’s risks 10 runs from the manufacturer to the physician (the “learned intermediary”), and then from 11 the physician to the patient. See Brown v. Superior Court (Abbott Labs.), 44 Cal. 3d
 12 1049, 1061-62, n.9 (1988); Carlin v. Superior Court (Upjohn Co.), 13 Cal. 4th 1104,
 13 1116 (1996). It is the physician, and only the physician, who is charged with prescribing
 14 the appropriate drug and communicating the relevant risks to the patient. See Brown, 44
 15 Cal. 3d at 1061-62.

16 26. GSK and the FDA prepared the information to be included with the 17 prescription drug, Avandia, with the FDA having final approval of the information that 18 could be presented. Once the FDA has determined the form and content of the 19 information, it is a violation of federal law to augment the information. See 21 U.S.C.
 20 §331(k) (prohibiting drug manufacturers and distributors from causing the “alteration,
 21 mutilation, destruction, obliteration, or removal of the whole or any part of the labeling”
 22 of an FDA-approved drug held for sale); Brown v. Superior Court, 44 Cal.3d 1049, 1069
 23

24 <sup>1</sup> The Declaration of McKesson’s representative, Greg Yonko may be considered by the Court in 25 determining whether McKesson is fraudulently joined. Maffei v. Allstate California Ins. Co., 412
 26 F.Supp.2d 1049 (E.D. Cal. 2006) (“[t]he court may pierce the pleadings, consider the entire record, and 27 determine the basis of joinder by any means available”) citing Lewis v. Time, Inc., 83 F.R.D. 455 (E.D.
 28 Cal. 1979) (“it is well settled that upon allegations of fraudulent joinder...federal courts may look beyond the pleadings to determine if the joinder...is a sham or fraudulent device to prevent removal”). See also Ritchey v. Upjohn Drug Co., 139 F.3d 1313, 1318-19 (9th Cir. 1998) (evidence may be presented by the removing party that there is no factual basis for the claims pleaded against the local defendant).

n.12 (noting that the FDA regulates the testing, manufacturing, and marketing of drugs, including the content of their warning labels). Therefore, any safety and warning information McKesson had about Avandia would have come from GSK in the form of FDA-approved packaging and labeling. McKesson could not change the labeling it was given by GSK as approved by the FDA without violating federal law. No duty can be found where it requires a party to violate the law to fulfill it.

27. As such, given the lack of a causal connection between the injuries alleged by Plaintiffs and McKesson's conduct, as well as the absence of any legal or factual basis for Plaintiffs' claims against McKesson, McKesson's joinder is fraudulent and its citizenship should be ignored for purposes of determining the propriety of removal.

III. FEDERAL QUESTION JURISDICTION

28. This Court has federal question jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and the principles set forth in Grable & Sons Metal Prods., Inc. v. Darue Eng'g & Mfg., 125 S. Ct. 2363 (2005).

29. As more fully explained below, Plaintiffs have made violations of federal law critical elements of several of their claims.

A. Plaintiffs' Claims Require Construction and Application of the FDCA and Its Implementing Regulations

30. Count III of Plaintiffs' Complaint, "Negligence Per Se," explicitly alleges that defendants violated federal law. Plaintiffs claim, inter alia, that "[d]efendants violated the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. Section 301 et seq., related amendments and codes and federal regulations provided thereunder, and other applicable laws, statutes, and regulations." See Cosner Decl. Exh A, ¶ 56.

31. Plaintiffs further claim that "[d]efendants' acts constituted an adulteration and/or misunderstanding [sic] as defined by the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. § 331. . . ." See Cosner Decl. Exh A, ¶58.

32. Moreover, Count II of the Plaintiffs' Complaint, "Negligent Failure to Adequately Warn," and Count IX, "Strict Products Liability – Failure to Adequately

1 Warn,” also require construction and application of the FDCA and implementing federal 2 regulations, which govern approval of prescription drugs and regulate prescription drug 3 manufacturers’ public and promotional statements, including all aspects of warnings and 4 labeling.

5 33. As a currently-marketed prescription drug, Avandia is subject to extensive 6 regulation by the FDA. The FDCA requires the FDA to ensure that “drugs are safe and 7 effective” for their intended uses, 21 U.S.C. § 393(b)(2)(B), in part by “promptly and 8 officially reviewing clinical research and taking appropriate action on the marketing of 9 regulated products.” 21 U.S.C. § 393(b)(1). The Secretary of the FDA has the authority 10 to promulgate regulations to enforce the FDCA, which are codified in the Code of 11 Federal Regulations, 21 C.F.R. § 200, et seq. See 21 U.S.C. § 371(a).

12 34. To accomplish its purpose, the FDA maintains a Center for Drug 13 Evaluation and Research (the “CDER”). The CDER regulates pharmaceutical 14 companies’ development, testing and research, and manufacture of drugs. The CDER 15 examines data generated by these companies to conduct a risk/benefit analysis and make 16 an approval decision. The CDER also ensures truthful advertising for prescription drugs, 17 in part by approving Package Inserts that properly outline benefit and risk information.
18 Once drugs are marketed, the CDER continues to monitor them for unexpected health
19 risks that may require public notification, a change in labeling, or removal of the product
20 from the market. In short, the CDER evaluates and monitors the effectiveness and safety
21 of prescription drugs. See <http://www.fda.gov/cder/about/faq/default.htm>.

22 35. Promotional communications to physicians about Avandia are contained 23 within, and restricted by, warning, labeling, and promotional materials, such as the 24 Package Insert, that are approved and monitored by the FDA to ensure the provision of 25 accurate information about the drug’s respective risks and benefits. Under federal 26 regulations, even claims in promotional labeling or advertising must be consistent with 27 approved labeling. 21 C.F.R. § 202.1(e)(4) (2005).

28 36. The FDA’s responsibility to regulate prescription drugs sold in the United

1 States, and to enforce laws with respect to such drugs, inclusive of the precise content
 2 and format of prescription drug labeling (e.g., the instructions, warning, precautions, 3 adverse reaction information provided by manufacturers, and marketing materials), is 4 plenary and exclusive. See 21 U.S.C. § 301, et seq.

5 37. Plaintiffs have explicitly alleged violations of federal law in their 6 “Negligence Per Se” claim, and have made alleged violations of federal law a critical
 7 element of their “Negligent Failure to Adequately Warn” and “Strict Products Liability –
 8 Failure to Adequately Warn” claims. Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ claims necessarily raise 9 substantial federal questions by requiring the Court to construe and apply the FDCA and 10 its implementing regulations.

11 B. Federal Control of Drug Labeling and Warning

12 38. On January 24, 2006, the FDA announced a rule that includes a detailed 13 and emphatic statement of the FDA’s intention that its regulation and approval of 14 prescription drug labeling preempt most state law claims related to the adequacy of 15 prescription drug warnings because such claims frustrate “the full objectives of the 16 Federal law.” See Requirements on Content and Format of Labeling for Human 17 Prescription Drug and Biologic Products, 71 Fed. Reg. 3922, 3934 (Jan. 24, 2006) (“FDA
 18 believes that under existing preemption principles, FDA approval of labeling under the 19 act. . . preempts conflicting or contrary State law.”). See also In re Bextra and 20 Celebrex Marketing, 2006 WL 2374742 (N.D. Cal., August 16, 2006) (Celebrex
 21 decision); In re Bextra and Celebrex Marketing, 2006 WL 2472484 (N.D. Cal., August 22 24, 2006) (Bextra decision);

23 39. Plaintiffs allege that GSK failed to disclose certain risks of Avandia. See 24 e.g., Cosner Decl. Exh. A, ¶ 27-29. This allegation necessarily requires Plaintiffs to 25 establish that the FDA, which has exclusive jurisdiction over the labeling of drugs, would 26 have approved the warning the Plaintiffs allege should have been given.

27 40. Accordingly, there is a substantial federal question with respect to whether 28 Plaintiffs can claim that GSK violated state law in light of the FDA’s control of 1 Avandia's labeling and warning and its position on conflict preemption.

2 C. The Federal Interest In Providing A Forum

3 41. The federal government has a strong interest in having a federal court
4 decide several of the issues in this case. Among these issues are:

5 a. whether any conduct of GSK violated any federal laws or regulations
6 related to the labeling and marketing of Avandia; and

7 b. whether the FDA-approved Avandia label was false and misleading, as 8 alleged by Plaintiff, and whether a state may impose liability on GSK for not providing 9 more information regarding alleged risks, as Plaintiff contends GSK should have done.

10 42. Plaintiffs' claims may be vindicated or defeated only by construction of 11 federal statutes and regulations. The availability of a federal forum to protect the 12 important federal interests at issue is therefore consistent with Grable, and determination
13 by a federal court of the substantial and disputed federal issues that lie at the heart of this 14 case would not "disturb any congressionally approved balance of federal and state 15 judicial responsibilities." Grable, 125 S. Ct. at 2368.

16 IV. CONFORMANCE WITH PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS

17 43. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter based on federal question and 18 diversity of citizenship, and the present lawsuit may be removed from the Superior Court
19 of the State of California for the County of San Francisco, and brought before the United 20 States District Court for the Northern District of California pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 21 1331, 1332 and 1441.

22 44. Neither GSK nor McKesson have been served with Plaintiffs' Complaint.
23 Cosner Decl. ¶4. Therefore, this Removal has been timely filed. See 28 U.S.C. § 24 1446(b).

25 45. Since neither GSK nor McKesson have been "properly joined and served"
26 at the time of filing this Removal, GSK is entitled to removal under the plain language of 27 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b). See Waldon v. Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp., 2007 U.S. Dist.
28 LEXIS 45809 (N.D. Cal. June 18, 2007). See also 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b); Cosner Decl.

¶4.

46. McKesson's consent to remove is not necessary because it is fraudulently joined. See also, e.g., Easley v. 3M Company, et al., 2007 WL 2888335 (N.D. Cal. 2007) citing Emrich v. Touche Ross & Co., 846 F.2d 1190, 1193 n.1 (9th Cir. 1988).

47. The United States District Court for the Northern District of California is the federal judicial district encompassing the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San Francisco, where this suit was originally filed. Venue therefore is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a).

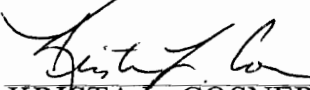

48. Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C §1 446(d), GSK will promptly file a copy of this Notice of Removal with the clerk of the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San Francisco, where this suit was originally filed.

49. Defendant reserves the right to amend or supplement this Notice of Removal.

WHEREFORE, GSK respectfully removes this action from the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San Francisco to the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441.
